THIS CONIPANY offers unrivalled facilities for the theurance of Huldings and Personal Property against fire. The advantages offered are security beyond the reach of chromathances, as the real estate manured is by law bound for the assessment made to cover lesses beyond the power of erasion. Every person insured is a member of the Company, and entitled to one rote. The cost of increance does not exceed one-third as much as in Stock Companies, asn'ing nothing of the increance accurity and the incompatible ease with which loses are cettled. Baring the last five years, this Company have lasted 2000 Pelletes, and made but three assessments, at a cost to the property insured, not exceeding two mills on the adultariation in the company of the control of the State.

THE NEWS.—A variety of interesting latelli gence will be found under the Telegraph head. The House has not yet elected a Speaker, and vesterday refused to hear the President's Message read. The N. Y. Assembly are also at a dead lock. A serious fire occurred yesterday at Buffalo. A tremendous storm has devistated the town of Montgomery, Aldonno, Anther fatal Rail Road accident is reported. The Annual Message of President PIERCE, delivered to Congress on Monday last, and Telegraphed exclusively for the Milwaukee Sentine was received by us on New Year's morning and issued in the afternoon. It is republished in our regular edition this morning, lest some of our readers may have failed to receive the extra | y The document is characteristic of its author, and while it may be received with great favor by the South, cappor fail to disgust the great body of Northern Freemen. The first three columns are devoted to our Foreign Relations, and the remainder to Domestic Affairs. Though at peace with all the world, there are clouds in the horizen which portend difficulties at least, but difficulties which need not and, we hope, will not lead no collisions. We have two causes of difference, with Great Britain-the Central American and the Recruiting questions. The latter was a foolish piece of business, and no doubt Great Britain will be ready and willing to make reparation. As to the other, Great Britain has so little to gain by holding on to her questionable pretensions, and so much to lose in alienating the good will and friendly feeling of the U.S., that it will need no very profound diplomacy to induce her to forego her claims. Spain is making progress in redressing our grievances, and Mexico will follow suit, no doubt, at the first interval of repose and order. With all other nations we are on terms of amity, and with none have we any present cause of complaint, excepting Denmark. That Government it appears, still insists on lovying the Sound Dues upon American, as well as all other Commerce passing to and from the Balme. It is a shabby ouriness in Denmark, and without color of right, and we have acquiesced quite as long as internstional comity requires in this extorted tribute .-The costom is one decidedly "more honored in the breach, then the observance," and we quite ugico with the President that we should pay no tiors toil. Having disposed of Foreign, the President next trans to Domestic Affairs. The financial condition of the government is satisfactory. The Public Debt is reduced to a trifle, and the Federal Revenues will exceed the expenditures, extravagant as the latter have become. Good report is made of the doings of the Army and Navy and an increase of the latter recommended. The Post Office is two and a half millions in arreats mainly owing to the tree mutter which encum bers the mails, and the excessive charges for Roilway and steam transportation. The Public Lands are going off rapidly, the' not lift so fist as speculative and corporations would like to make them. The District of Columbia is commended to the fatherly care of Congress, and Kansas dismissed with a giegerly and and ambiguous pri

Having thus "passed in review" the general esate of the Union, the President Coroles all the rest of his message, nearly three columns, to an elaborate disenseion of the Siave, viruction, in a South. Mr. Pit her makes no halfway business chased Miner's brick block on Wisconsta Street, of it, but goes the extreme length of justifying for $\(\)(13,000\), intending to transfer the business every aggression of the South, and cenauting any consolidither during the current year. This bank, attempt at remonstrance, or resistance on the which commenced business with a limited capital to the whole control to the North. The reditance of $\(\)(\)\(\)(\)South and the various wassered to provision; and the Nebraska Iniquity commencional justice and wisdom. This is a bold bid for Southern support at the next Presidential election, and it is very like to prove successful. Let us devoutly trust, however, that the country will be spaced such an infliction as another four years term of Franklin Pierce.

"RENDER UNTO CARBAR, &c."-Our contempo raries of the American and the Wisconsin, bot issued the Message vosterday, from the Sentings extra of the day preceding, and both forgot to tell where they got it. The American gave no credit at all, while the Wescowie, with ingenious perversences, gave credit to the American though well knowing that the zimerican and itself were indebted to the & attact for the doesement. As none of the Chicago papers received the Message by telegraph, the public might have had to wait a day or two yet, but for our anangegneuts to have it telegraphed to the Sentinel.

I have declined, in behalf of the United States to accept this invitation, for the most copen treaseons. One is, that Denmark does not offer to submit to the Convention the question of her rights to levy the Sound Dues. Secondly, that if the Convention were allowed to take cognizance of the particular question, still it would not be compensation of the profession of the respective of the respective dary. All the reasons which existed when the Convention were allowed to take cognizance of the particular question, still it would not be confirmed with the great international principle involved, which affects the rights in other cases of navigation and commercial freedom, as well as that of access to the Baltication of the Sonnd Dues shall be comminged with and made subservient to a matter wholly extraneous, the artillery requires the practice and especial study of many years, and it is not therefore believed to be advisable to maintain in time of peace a larger force of that are than can be employed in the duties appertaining to the service of field and seige actillary. The duties of staff in all its various branches belong to the movements of troops, and the efficiency of an army in the field would materially depend on the ability with which these duties are discharged. It is now, as in the case of the artillery a special service that requires an intimate knowledge of the duties of an officer of the huganil it is not doubted that to complete the education of an officer for either the line, or stuff, t is desirable that he shall have served in both. With this view it was recommended on former oc-casions that the duties of the stiff should be mainly performed by details from the line, and in the conviction of the advantages which would result from such change it is again presented for the consideration of Congress.

The Report of the Secretary of the Navy, herewith submitted, exhibits in full the naval operaconditions of the past year, together with the present condition of the service, and it makes suggestions of further legislation to which your attention is directed. The construction of the six steam frigates for which appropriations were made by the last Congress, has proceeded in the most satisfactory manner, with such expedition as to warrant the helief that they will be weath for service contributions to the same of th the belief that they will be ready for service carl the belief that they will be ready for service early in the coming spring. Important as is this addition to our naval force, it still remains inadequate to the contingencies of the protection of the extensive sea coast and vast commercial interests of the United States. In view of this fact and the acknowledged wisdom of the policy of a gradual and systematic increase of the navy, an appropriation is recommended for the construction of fix steamsloops of war. In regard to the steps taken in the execution of the act of Congress, to promote the efficiency of the navy, it is unnecessary more the efficiency of the navy, it is unnecessary forme to say more than to express my entire concurrence in the observations on that subject presented by the Secretary in his Report. presented by the Secretary in his Report. Much of the heavy expenditure to which the Treasury is thus subjected is to be ascribed to the large quantities of printed matter conveyed by the mails, eitner franked, or liable to no postage by law, or very low rates of postage compared with that charged on letters, and the great cost of mail service on railroads and by ocean steamers. reserved rights of the States, and their equal representation in the Sonate. That independent sovereignty in every one of the States, with its reserved rights of local self-government assured to each by their co-equal power in the Senate, was the fundamental condition of the Constitution.— Without it, the Union would never have existed. However desirous the larger States may have been to re-organize the government, so as to give their population its proportionate weight in the common compails they have a second the common councils, they knew it was impossible, unless they conceded to the smaller ones and thority to exercise at least a negative influence in all the measures of the Covernment, whether legislative or executive, through their equal representation in the Senate. Indeed the larger States themselves could not have failed to force that the same power was equally necessary to them for the security of their own domestic interests against the aggregate force of the General Government.

ai Government.

In a word, the original States went into this permanent lengue, on the agreed premises of exerting their common strength for the defence of the whole and of all its parts, but of unterly excluding all capability of reciprocal aggressions.—

Each bound itself to all the others, neither to indertake, nor permit encroachment upon, or intermeddling with another's reserved rights; & where it was deemed expedient, naticalar rights of the it was deemed expedient, particular rights of the it was deemed expedient, particular rights of the States were expressly guaranteed by the limitation of the powers granted and by express reservation of all powers not granted in the compact of Union. Thus the great power of taxution was limited to the purpuses of common defence and general welfare, excluding objects apportaining to the local legislation of the separate States, and those purposes of general welfare and common defense were afterwards defined by specific ennueration as being matters only of correlation. entimetation as being matters only of co-relation between the States themselves, or between their and foreign governments, which because of their common and general nature could not be left to the separate control of each State. Among the circumstances of local condition, interests and rights, in which a portion of the States constitu-ting one great section of the Union, differed from the rest and from another section, the most important was the peculiarity of a larger relative important was the peculiarity of a larger relative colored population in the Southern than in the Northern States.

A population of this class, held in subjection, existed in nearly all the States, but was more numerous and of more sesious concernment in the South than in the North, on account of natural differences in clumate and productions, and it was fined to the the state of found that for the same reasons why their popula-tion would diminish, and sooner or later case to exist in some States, it might increase in others. The peculiar character and magnitude of this suggestions of the Post Master General on the subject deserve the consideration of Congress.

The report of the Secretary of the Interior will engage your attention, as well for the useful auggestions it commins, as for the interest and importance of the subjects to which they refer. The aggregate amount of public lands sold during the last fixed year, located with military scrip, of the last fixed year, located with military scrip, of and selected as swamp lands by States, is 24, and selected as swamp lands by States, is charged from such service or labor, but should be delivered up on claim of the party to whom such service or labor might be due, by the laws of his State. Thus, and thus only, by the reciprocal guarantee of all the rights of every State against interference on the part of another, was the present form of government established by our fathers, and transmitted to us and by no other means is it. possible for it to exist. If one State ceases to respect the rights of another and obstrusively intermeddles with its local interests; if a portion of termeddles with its local interests; if a portion of the States assume to impose their institutions on the others, or refuse to fulfil their obligations to them, we are no longer united, friendly States, but distracted, hostile ones, with little capacity left of common advantage, but abunding means of reciprocal injury and mischief.

Practically it is immaterial whether aggressive interference between the States, ox deliberate refusal on the part of any one of them to comply with the Constitutional obligations, arise from erroneous conviction or, blind prejudice. Whether it be perpetrated by direction or indirection, in either case it is full of danger to the durability of the Union. Placed in the office of chlefwing is same, as the Executive Agent of the whole country, bound to take core that the laws be faithfully executed, especially enjoined by the Constitution to give information to Congress of the State of the Union, it would be palpable neglect of duty on my part to pass over a subject ent States.

fant Republic, and had began to tuen their attention to the fall and systematic development of the incensional resources of the Union. Among the controversies of that period the most conspicuous are the questions of the regulation by Congress of the accial condition of the future States, to be founded in the territory of Louisiana. The ordinance of the Government for the territory north west of the Oho river, had contained a provision which prohibited the use of services therein, and was subject to the condition of the extradition of fugitives from Slavery due in any part of the United States. Subsequently to the constitution, this protision ceased to remain as a law, for its operation as such was absolutely supersaded by the constitution, but the recollection of the past extinct the zeal of social propagandism in some sections of the confederation, and when a second state—that of Missouri—came to be formed from the territory of Louisiana, the propositions assuade to extend it to the latter territory. The restriction originally applied to the country situated between the Ohio and Mississippi. Most questionable as was this proposition in all its constitutional relations, nevertheless it received the sanction of Congress, with some slight modifications of line, to save the existing rights of the intended new state. It was reluctionally acquiesced in by the Southern States, as a sacrifice to the continuance of peace and of the Union, not only of the rights stipulated by the treaty with Louisiana, but of the principle of equality under the constitution. It was received by the Korthern States with angry and revengeful condemnation, and because it did not concedeful which they had expecuingly demanded. Harby the Northern States with angry and revenge-ful condemnation, and because it did not concede all which they had expectingly demanded. Hav-ing passed through the forms of legislation, it took its place in the statute book, standing open to repeal, like any other act of doubtful consulta-tionality—subject to be pronounced null and void tionality—subject to be pronounced null and void by the course of law, and possessing no possible ellicinety to control the rights of states which night thereafter be organized out of any part of the original territory of Louisiana.

In all this, if any aggression there were, or invasions of preexisting rights—to which portion of the Union are they justly to be ascribed? This controversy passed away with the occasion mothing surviving it but the dormant letter of the Statute; but long afterwards, when by the proposed accession of the Republic of Texas, the U.S. were to take their next step in territorial greatness, a similar contingency occurred, and became the occasion for systematic attempts to interfere with domestic affairs in one section of the Union, in defiance of their rank as States, and of the stip. in defiance of their rank as States, and of the stip ulations of the Constitution. These attempts as-aumed a practical direction in the shape of persumed a practical direction in the shape of persevering endeavours by some of the representatives in both Houses of Congress to deprive the Southern States of the supposed hencit of the provisions of the act, authorizing the organisation of the State of Missouri, but the good sense of the people, and the vital force of the Constitution, triumphed over sectional prejudice and the political issues of the day, and the state of Texas sectional to the Universe the present section. returned to the Union, as she was, with social in-stitutions which her people had chosen for them-selves, and with the express agreement by the re-ennexing act that the should be susceptible of vision into a plurality of states.

division into a planslity of states.

Whatever advantages the interests of the Southern States gained by this, were far inferior in results to that unfolded in the progress of time, to those which sprang from previous concession made by the South. To every thoughtful friend of the Union, the true lovers of their country, to all who labor and long for the full success of this great experiment of Republican institutions; such an opportunity had never occurred to ilustrate our advancing nower on this continent and furnish to the world a full assurance of the strength and stability of our Constitution. Who would wish to still see Florida an European colony. Who would, could desire to hail Texas as the "lone star" instead of one in the galaxy of states? Who does not appreciate the incalculable benefits of the acquisition of Louisiana? And yet the narrow view of sectional purposes would inevitably have excluded them all from the Union.

But another struggle or the same point enaued, controversy upon the question of the admission of new States. In that crisis, solicitude permated the nation, but the patriode impulses of the popu-lar heart, guarded by the admonitory advice of the Father of his Country, rose superior to all the difficulties of the international states. the Father of his Country, rose superior to all the difficulties of the incorporation of a new empire, into the Union. In the councils of Congress there were manifested extreme differences of opinion, and action between some representatives who desired the unconstitutional employment of the legislative powers of the Government to interfere in the condition of the Inchoate States, and to impose their own social theories upon the latter, and other representatives who repelled the interposition of the Gomeral Covernment in this respect and mightachied the self-constitutive rights of like

Once more the Constitution and the Union Once more the Constitution and the Union triamphed signally; the new territories were erganized without restrictions upon the disputed point, and were thus left to judge in that particular for themselves, and the sense of conviction and faith proved vigorous enough in Congress not only to accomplish this preliminary object, but also the incidental and hardly less important one, of so amending the propositions of the statute for the extradition of fugitives from service as to place that multiple dury maker the asticular that are the contract the service as to place that multiple dury maker the asticular propositions.

ant one, of so assenting the propositions of the statute for the entradition of fugitives from service, as to place that public duty under the safeguard of the general government, and thus relieve it from obstacles raised up by the legislation of some of the States.

Vain declamation regarding the provisions of of law for the extradition of fugitives from service, with occasional episodes of fanatic efforts to obstruct their execution by riot or murder continued for a brief time to agitate certain localities. But the true principle of leaving each State to reglutate its own laws of labor according to its own sense of right and expediency had acquired fast hold upon the public judgment to such a degree that by common consent, it was observed in the organization of the Territory, of Washington.

When, more recently, it became requisits to organize the two territories of Kausas and Nebraska, it was the natural and legitimas if not the inevitable consequence of previous events and legislation, that the same great and sound principle which had already been applied to Utah and New Mexico, should be applied to them, and they

New Mexico, should be applied to them, and they should stand exempt from the restrictions provided in the act relative to the State of Missouri. These restrictions were in the estimation of many thoughful map mult from the beginning, unauthorized by the constitution contents to the treats stim-

They had been stripped of all moral authority by persistent efforts to procure their indirect repeal through contradictory enactments.

They had been particularly abrogated by the legislation attending the organization of Utah, New Mexico and Washington. If any 'titulity remained it would have been taken away in the effect of new tenitorial acts, in the form originally proposed in the Senste as, the first session of the last Congress. It was manly and glorious, as well as patriouc and just, to do this directly and plainly, and thus relieve the statute books of an act which might be of future possible injury, and of no possible future benefit; and the incasure of its future repeal was the final consumusation and complete recognition of the practice that there can be no assumption of the practice that there can be no assumption of the powers of the General Government to dictate the recital institutions of any portions of the country. stitutions of any portions of the country,

The result of this trial, which was greater than that to which the work will, ordinarily be subjected, ended with no other damage than a partial collapse of the lower ung walk at the fourth lock, at Little Chute, some of the bottom stone having been displaced, leaving the work above them standing. The lock was afterwards filled and materials passed through was afterwards filled and materials passed through for the use of the work. At Grand Chute, a seam opened in the rock under the lower miter of the third lock. No other defect was shown, and these will not be remided until next spring.

I may add that during the last week in November, the Coffer Dams and brasta ocks of the canals were removed and a boat passed from Lake Winnebago to the warehouse at Kaukanua.

IMADE ISSOR WOODPS Hair Restorative is no doubt the most wanderful discovery of this age of progress, for it will restore, permanently; grey hair to its original color, cover the head of the bald with a most luxuriant growth, remove nt once all dandruff and itching, care all Surolula and other cutaneous eruptions, such as sould head, do. It will cure as if by magic, nervous or periodical head, doe. It will cure as if by magic, nervous or periodical headshee, make the hair not figures, and way, and greserve the color perfeculty, and the fair from falling to extreme old age. We could give the testimony of more than one hundred thousand to the truth of every word we have written. See derectar and the following.

I have used Prof. Wood's Hair Restorative, and have admitted its wonderful effect. My hair was becoming, as I thought permaturely grey; but by the use of his Restorative it has resumed its original color, and I have no doubt permanently so.

SIDNEY REFERS.

SIDNEY BREESE, Ex-Senator United Stat Ex. Senntor United States.

First, O. J. Wood: Dear Sir—As you are about to manufacture extensively and vend your recently discovered that Restorative, I will "ato for whomseover it may concern, that I have used it and known others to use it; that I have for several years been in the habit of using other habit restoratives, and that I find yours vastly superfer to any other I know. It entirely cleanese the head from dandruff, and with one month's proper use will restore any person's hair to the original youthful color and texture, giving it a beatthy, soit and glossy appearance, and all this without discoloring the haads that apply it, or the dress on which it drops. I would therefore recommend its use to every one degroes of having a fine color and texture of hake.

Respectfully your.

A gentleman of Boston writes to his friends in New Bed-A gentleman of Boston writes to his friends in New Bedford, thus:

To your inquiries I would reply that when I first commenced using Professor Wood's Huir Restorative, my hair was almost white, and had been so for the last ten years, and it was very tim on the top of my head, and very loose and putied out freely, but I found that before I had used the second bottle up (which was eight weeks) my hair was entirely changed to its original code (light brown) and is now free from dandruff and quite moist. I have had my hair cut five or six times since the change, and have never seen anything like white hair starting from the roots, and it is now as thick as it erer was, and does not come out at all. It has proved in my case all that I could wish or ask.

Mr. Dyer: Dear Sir-I Lave used two bottles of Frof.

Wood's Hair Restorative, and can truly any it is the greatest discovery of the fige for restoring and changing the hair. Before using it, I was us grey as a man of soventy.

My hair has now attained its original color. You can recommend it to the world without the least fear, as my case was one of the world without. Frot. Wood:—My hair commenced falling of some three or four years since, and continued to do so until theeme quite bald. I rated all the popular medicines of the day, but to no direct. At last I was induced to try our celebrated Hair Restorative, and am happy to say it is doing wonders. I have now a fine growth of young hair, and cheerfully recommend its use to all bimilarly afficient.

Prof. Wood :—As you are about to prepare and pour recently discovered Hale Restorative, and payou request my opinion of it, I will state that my hart was, a few months ago, very grey; and after using two bottles of your Hale Restorative, it assumed its original color, and since its application and dandrum has disappeared from my head, and I have been troubled with no disagreeable tiching of the scalp. I sm satisfied those who see I will not regret it, as it gives the appearance of having been recently olde.
